

Care & Maintenance

Stone

Walters™

About Stone and Marble.

There are several suitable table top materials for outdoor use such as non-porous stone, ceramic and granite.

Although our stone tops are sealed before shipping, the surface is not immune to stains, scratches, or chips.

Guidelines.

- We strongly suggest using outdoor covers to best protect furniture from outdoor conditions.
- Avoid allowing water to remain on the surface of furniture or fabric covers.
- If preparing furniture for winter storage or other long-term storage, it's best to clean furniture prior to doing so.
- Contact Walters or your Dealer for information about custom-fit protective covers.

Cleaning.

- Always blot spills promptly and follow with a clean, damp cloth.
- It is recommended to use place mats beneath hard objects to avoid surface scratches.
- To prevent ring marks, dry surfaces immediately.
- Do not place hot items directly on marble.

- Dust frequently with a clean, soft cloth.
- If the tabletop is stained with any liquid or food, clean immediately with a mild detergent and rinse with water. Use a second damp cloth to thoroughly remove the soap. Dry with a soft cloth.
- Do not use chemical cleansers, sprays, abrasive cleaners, or products that contain lemon, vinegar or other acids.

Maintenance.

- For best performance, a stone sealer should be applied every six months to protect and restore the top.
- This should be repeated each year before winter storage.
- In cooler climates the product should be stored in a dry indoor area and or be covered to protect from the winter environments.
- Allow some space between the cover and the stone so that moisture is not trapped on the surface.

Walters™

walterswicker.com/materials